[Jacob Pape ahnentafel]
The corresponding baptismal entry in the Heeslingen church records is illegible, it is simply deciphered as:
"November 1702, Father: Baumann in Offensen, Mother: Ilsen."
Because of age limits, Johann Muller is the only name that fits for the period in question in the parish of Heeslingen, raising the question if Ilse is the first name of his mother.
There is a furtherkinship between the families Müller/Offensen and Meyer/Viehbrock-Wense:
Bosche Meyer (born in Wense, baptized in Heeslingen 01 Dec 1700) - Father Titje (born in Viehbrock) married on 04 Nov 1728 in Heeslingen Cathrin Margreth Müller (born in Offense, tinted in Heeslingen 13/11/1707) - Father Jacob Muller, Baumann in Offensen (she is the younger sister of Johann Müller).

"Plow" Treasury Register 1529: Claus ibidem, Bastell
Farm register 1542: Clawes thom Barstell
The name Bredehouvet respectively Bredehöft has prevailed in later years (from 1663).
Up to 1699, both "thom Borstel", "zum Bostel" were common also as Bredehöft. Whether they were always by the same family can not be determined with certainty.
However, because of the "Höfefolge" in Boitzenbostel, it can be assumed with great probability.
*Applies to: Clawes Bredehövet (Thom Borstell)*³⁵⁷.
